RELAX WITH TAX

Bay Area Lawyers for the Arts (BALA) presents "Relax with Tax," a conference on the essentials of tax information for individual artists, small businesses and non-profit organizatins on Saturday, February 20, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Building A.

A panel of accountants and tax attorneys explain how artists can take advantage of the deductions available to employees and self-employed persons, including those related to charitable contributions, business expenses, individual retirement accounts and pension plans (morning session). Tax problems on non-profit and profit corporations will also be discussed.

Small discussion groups will be organized in the afternoon so that these issues can be discussed in greater detail.

Speakers will include accountants Ted Mitchell, who teaches at Golden Gate University; Thomas H. Gibson of the firm Price Waterhouse and a co-author of The Art of Deduction (BALA, 1979) and Claudia Newbold, also with Price Waterhouse. In addition, David Pansius and Kevin Donovan, both tax specialists on the BALA attorney panel, will speak.

The conference fee is $30 with advance registration before February 16 or $35 on or after February 16. The cost includes a catered lunch and a packet of conference materials. There will be a 10 percent discount for members of BALA.

For further information, call Bay Area Lawyers for the Arts at 775-7200.

FRIENDS' BENEFITS

Cheers, Friends. We all need an extra boost during these short days and long nights of rain. Fort Mason Foundation is offering a gloom chaser. During the month of February the cost of a FMC membership will be reduced by $1. For individuals, the cost of joining The Friends of Fort Mason will be only $14. For families, the cost will be $24. A Friends of Fort Mason membership includes a one year subscription to the Calendar, mailed to your residence (or business), and entitles you to take advantage of all the fantastic discounts offered in this column throughout the year. Plus, you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have contributed to the growth of one of the country's most exciting and successful experiments—the conversion of this old military property to a low cost urban recreational and cultural center. Don't miss this once-a-year bargain.

February is conference/workshop month for Friends. On Sunday, February 7, from 9-5:30 is a workshop entitled "Waking Up in the Nuclear Age" led by Chellis Glendinning. Friends may attend for just $10., ($2. off general admission price). On Friday and Saturday, February 12&13, California Neighborhoods is sponsoring the Third Annual California Neighborhoods Conference. This 2 day event is available to Friends for $25., ($10. off general admission price).

February 20 is the date of the "Relax with Tax" conference presented by Bay Area Lawyers for the Arts. You may attend this timely event at 10% less than the general admission price of $30, if you register before 2/16, or $35, if you register after the 16th. Now let's see, $30 minus 10% is. . . .

Be sure to check Calendar listing for more information.

SAN FRANCISCO ARMORY SHOW

The First International San Francisco Armory Show, to be held this February at Fort Mason Center, attempts to bring the value of the artist directly to the people. With the spectre of nuclear annihilation hanging like a vulture in the steel grey sky of the future, a culture that has learned to revel in its own disintegration is again looking to its artists for a vision of peace and creative interdependence.

Artists at their full power are healers of the collective spirit. Now, more than ever, their unique power to forget new possibilities from impossible visions is desperately needed.

Unfortunately, these healers have long been subject to the very power that has divided the planet and dehumanized its people—the power of the marketplace and the materialism that sustains it.

The landscapes, still lifes, cartoons, retouched photos and imitations of past masters that crowd the art market pose no real threat to existing institutions.

The threat such artists do pose comes from their close approximations to true art. These skillful forgeries of the heart and mind with which they flood the market confuse the values of the civilization they should serve. This is a threat because they keep the arts of society from the people who need them the most. These artists serve ignorance and inertia as they serve Mammon. They are the natural enemy of all true art.

The unifying, curative and transformative influence of art must be taken directly to the people if we are to sidestep the abyss of extinction, the technocratic Armageddon, that looms before us.

The San Francisco Armory Show is an attempt to stop our rush towards self-annihilation. It will succeed and humanity will survive because the people of San Francisco and the world will awaken to claim their heritage: The art-engendered power to imagine and realize a future that justifies the bitter struggle to attain it.

The First International San Francisco Armory will be in Pier 2, February 1 thru 28 and is open 11am to 10pm. Admission is $3.00. For more information please call 454-5871.

VALENTINE'S DAY PHOTOGRAPHY BAZAAR & FILM FESTIVAL

A Valentine's Day Photography Bazaar and Film Festival, benefiting the Fifth Annual Imogen Cunningham Photography Award, will be held in Building A on Sunday, February 14, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission is free. $1 per film will be charged.

Featured on this occasion will be the Bay Area premiere of a film by Oregon filmmaker John A. Stewart, THE WOMAN BEHIND THE IMAGE: Photographer Judy Dater. Other films to be shown continuously throughout the day will be those depicting the life and work of Imogen Cunningham, Edward Weston, Dorothea Lange and other well-known photographers.

Signed photographic books, posters and postcards will be sold. Among the participating artists and authors, many of whom will be present, are Ansel Adams, Ruth Bernard, Judy Dater, Susan Felter, Hal Fischer, Leo Holub, Filem Kriz, Margaretta Mitchell, Fran Ortiz, Bill Owens, Gail Skoff, Peter Stackpole, Ralph Steiner, Jack Welpott, Cole Weston, Charis Wilson, Lee Witkin and Marion Post Wolcott.

Original photography by Imogen Cunningham, Ralph Stiner, Marion Post Wolcott, Ruth Bernard, Jack Welpott, Peter Stackpole, the five previous Imogen Cunningham Award winners and others will be raffled. These photographs, generously donated by the artists and the Cunningham photograph by the Imogen Cunningham Trust, will be on view at the Bazaar. Tickets for the drawing will be sold throughout the day.

Proceeds from the Photography Bazaar and Film Festival will go toward sustaining the Imogen Cunningham Photography Award. The award was established in 1976 to encourage the work of photographers whose work is not widely known. It is presented on April 12th of each year and sponsored by Friends of Imogen Cunningham with the cooperation of the San Francisco Foundation. For more information call 763-4600.
